ORGANIZE NEW CLUB

Insurance Order Grows Out of Conference Which Closed Last Night—National Officers are Named.

As an outgrowth of the American Bankers conference of field managers which closed in this city last night, there has been organized a national American Bankers club of field men, which is to be a sort of fraternal order. The details of the organization were completed yesterday. The by-laws provide for a national organization, and the officers for the same have already been chosen. They also provide for local clubs at the various agency centers, and twelve such clubs have already been granted charters. They are located in Jacksonville, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Cleveland, Detroit, Fort Wayne, Dayton, South Bend, Tampa, Fla., Pontiac, Mich., and Chicago District One.

The club will have three degrees of rank for individual members. The first is The Net Truth degree, in which the member is required to take certain pledges and must have a year of service with the company, with nothing against his record. The Bankers Shield degree is given to men with two years of service, and a clear record, and also certain standings in production. The Eagles' degree goes to men with five years of service, a clear record and certain requirements in production. Following are the national officers of the organization:

President—Ira Greenlee of Detroit.
Vice Presidents—N. H. Vaughn of Atlanta, Ga.; Stuart Barlow of Elgin, A. G. McKinnon of Los Angeles, Calif., and L. L. Humble of Nashville, Tenn.

National Secretary—R. Y. Rowe of Jacksonville.

Directors—B. Frank Taylor of Washington, D. C.; John F. Boyet of Cincinnati, and N. C. Cummings of Akron, Ohio.

The organization makes its beginning with twelve charter clubs, but there are others which have filed applications for admission. It is planned to have state as well as local and national organizations.

REVENUE SERVICE IS REORGANIZED

Information comes from the office of Collector of Internal Revenue, Oliver G. Addleman at Springfield that reorganizations of many of the Internal Revenue districts of the United States is being planned to take effect July 1. On account of many phases of federal taxes having been repealed or so modified as to materially reduce the volume of work in the various offices, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has directed collectors to consolidate certain sections of the office organization and also to bring together the two principal divisions of the district known as the field and the office under the supervision of one employee who shall be designated assistant to the collector. This will have the effect of centralizing the responsibility and of coordinating the work under one supervising head. Collector Addleman has promoted his Chief Office Deputy, Mr. S. J. Tompkins, formerly of Jacksonville to the position newly created by the consolidation, and his title after July 1 will be assistant to the collector. The chief field deputy, Mr. Forrest G. Allsup, will continue in office as chief of the field division, his duties being changed only to the extent that such will have general supervision by the assistant to the collector the same as other divisions of the district organization.

The changes made necessary under the revised plan resulted in the elimination of the Sales Tax and Estate Tax sections and the consolidation of the work of those two branches with other sections of the miscellaneous divisions of the office.

In the judgment of Collector Addleman, the plan of organization as outlined will result in a simplified and much more efficient administration of government business from the standpoint of the Internal Revenue service.

FOR GERMAN STATES

BERLIN. (AP)—Consolidation of the German republic into a union of four great states, including Austria, instead of the existing 18 more or less autonomous federated states which are continually squabbling among themselves, is advocated by Dr. William Kuelz, former Minister of Interior, as the only salvation of the Republic.

Prince Bismarck's mighty stroke in effecting a union of the federated states under one emperor, Dr. Kuelz believes, must be carried to completion by a further consolidation to end strife and save governmental expenses.

Dr. Kuelz proposes that the whole of North Germany be combined as one state, Prussia, Saxony, Thuringia, Hessen and several smaller states ought to be combined in a state called "Central Germany," while Bavaria, Wurttemberg, Baden and others would become South Germany. Austria, which millions of people on both sides of the border already regard as part of the German reich, would become the fourth state.

Editorial paragraph writers picture a future world in which French, Germans, and Russians will use salt cellars made exactly alike, where the nations on both sides of the Atlantic will buy shoes that do not vary in the slightest as to shape and model, and the Japanese, American and Mexican housewife will use exactly the same pots and pans for cooking.

ARMY'S PLANE READY TO HOP TO HONOLULU

The plane was flown from San Diego by Lieutenants Lester J. Maitland and Albert F. Hegenberger, pilot and navigator respectively, of the Hawaii flight. Speculation was rife as to starting time of the army plane which has a rival in civilian plane being rushed to completion here by Ernest L. Smith, San Francisco aviator and C. H. Carter of Los Angeles, navigator.

An inspection of the army ship, and careful final checking of all instruments was on the program with the arrival here late today of Major General Mason Patrick, chief of the army air corps. With the inspection completed, eyes will be turned to the weather man for the signal to go. The army fliers indicated they would get away within the next few days.

3,000 MILE NON-STOP TRIP ENDS SUDDENLY

DUBUQUE, Iowa, June 25. (AP)—The reward which "Speed" Bradford offered to any one discovering him with his hands off his wheel during his 3,000 mile nonstop automobile marathon will not be collected altho the marathon came to an abrupt end last night when his car struck loose gravel as it was passing another automobile near Maquoketa, skidded and rolled over several times.

Bradford tonight lies in a hospital here with a fractured nose and possibly internal injuries but when he was picked up he still clutched the steering wheel which he had torn loose. He was unconscious at the time and hospital attendants had to pry his hands loose. The automobile is a total wreck.

Bradford had been on the road since nine o'clock Wednesday morning without stopping the motor of his automobile and had covered slightly more than 2,200 miles during 59 hours of continuous driving.

Arnold Lange, a companion, suffered minor body injuries.

TRANSATLANTIC RADIO TELEPHONE IMPROVED

LONDON (AP)—Considerable improvement in the Trans-Atlantic wireless telephone service is promised by the construction of a new radio station now being built by the British government at Cupar, Scotland.

Measurements and tests carried out in 1925 indicated that the north of the British Isles was the ideal situation for transmission and reception of telephonic conversation with the United States, and the Cupar station is nearing completion. This station will supersede the present station at Wroughton, Wiltshire, which is about 80 miles from London.

British radio experts consider that, although the present wireless telephone service to America is not secret in the full sense of the word, it is proving of such value that its introduction was fully justified. Complete secrecy, however, is considered desirable, and with the opening of the Cupar station, experiments to this end are to be carried out by the British Post Office Engineering Staff.

DELEGATES TO ARMS CONFAB TAKE HOLIDAY

(Continued from Page One) they presumably will make some concrete proposals to Hugh S. Gibson, head of the American delegation. The American government probably has been advised the negotiations for such a pact are at least a possibility and it is believed also that if Admiral Salto makes a definite move, Mr. Gibson will be in a position to know what attitude to take.

The so-called Bryan arbitration agreement was never concluded with Japan, tho successfully negotiated with other nations and the Japanese are credited with the ambition to fashion some peace treaty with America more direct than the existing four power Pacific fleet.

Japs Want More Ships
In the meantime, Japan has officially informed the American delegation that she wants 70 per cent auxiliary warships to every 100 per cent for the United States. This means that Japan demands a ratio of 3.5 instead of 3, as fixed at Washington for capital ships and the Americans must decide whether this augmentation can be agreed to.

Meanwhile, in spite of official denials, it is understood that the Japanese informed one delegation that they would not press their demand for an unlimited number of small submarines, a demand which seems especially to worry the British.

The week ends with the Americans standing firmly against any reopening of the Washington treaty before 1931, when a second conference will be held at Washington with France and Italy participating for the purpose of studying the size of warships in the light of the development of science.

Mr. Gibson, speaking to the press today, made a plea for patience. He said he was not unreasonably optimistic, but wanted to point out that at the Washington conference there was merely one proposal before the assembly, namely the Hughes plan. An agreement in principle was reached almost at once, but it took 12 weeks to work out the details.

SOUTH DAKOTA LAW MAKERS PAY VISIT TO COOLIDGE HOME

by spinning a liar. There was the cowboy senator from the northwestern part of the state whose constituency includes a county without railroad and telephones.

Well to the fore were the lawyers, bankers and a few merchants as well dressed and poised as Mr. Coolidge himself and in back of them some farmer members with the sunburned countenance of the corn and wheat fields.

It was a cross section of a state young, lusty and conscious of its future, far enough east to feel the life of populous centers, far enough west to have retained some of its glamor and romance. Before the president spoke, he with Mrs. Coolidge, shook hands with the legislators. When he was called upon by H. E. Covey, lieutenant governor, to say a few words, the president answered from his announced intention of not speaking and said:

Call For Mrs. Coolidge
"I can scarcely let this opportunity pass without expressing my very sincere appreciation of the cordial invitation sent to me last summer by your state. Mrs. Coolidge and I found the location exceedingly acceptable to us."

When Mr. Coolidge had concluded his informal talk, a husky voiced member called out: "Let's hear from the first lady too."

Mrs. Coolidge waved a greeting and turned to leave with the president, who smiled broadly. A real western "hip, hip, hooray!" was then given for the Coolidges and the party set out for Lookout Mountain, ten miles away, whose name was changed yesterday by the legislature to "Mount Coolidge."

REFUSE RAIL MEN RAISE ON 55 RAILROADS

The majority report was signed by Dr. W. M. W. Splawn, president of the University of Texas, chairman, and Everett C. Brown of Chicago, representing the public, W. J. Jackson and J. W. Higgins, the railroad's representatives on the board. Jackson is chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois and Higgins is executive secretary of the Association of American Railroads.

Based on Agriculture
In denying an increase to conductors and trainmen, the majority based its conclusions on agriculture conditions in the west and its belief that men in those services now are receiving pay commensurate with wages paid trainmen and conductors on eastern and southern roads where increases of 7 1/2 per cent recently were granted.

Referring to its reasons for adding to the pay of yardmen, the board asserted:
"By reason of previous wage adjustments, the men in the yard service are in relatively a much less favorable position as compared with men in train service than they were in 1915. Those in train service receive on an average about $300 per year more than the men in yard service."

"If there is a difference in the character of the employment, the duties of the yardmen are more onerous than are the duties of the men in train service."

The record shows, the majority continued, that about half the yardmen live in cities of 100,000 or more where living expenses are higher.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER FINISH 400 MILE SKATE

Peoria, Ill., June 25. (AP)—Mrs. Henry Pfetzing and her daughter Anna Catherine who started from Kansas City, Mo., last Wednesday morning on roller skates arrived in Havana, near here late yesterday afternoon to conclude a 400 mile trip. The couple skated 215 miles on the way. In some towns they were barred from skating through, and several times they were forced to abandon their skates on account of dirt roads and bad weather. Ten miles out of Kansas City a rain forced them to quit. Mrs. Pfetzing injured her shoulder and nose when she slipped and fell while trying to get out of the way of a truck between Springfield, Ill., and Petersburg.

"I wouldn't take a million dollars for my experience." "It was lovely," said Mrs. Pfetzing when she arrived home.

Miss Mary Barry is visiting her parents west of the city over the week-end.

ROSENBAUM TAKES ARMOUR ELEVATORS AS PART PAYMENT

He held that the Armour Grain company had substituted low grade grain for grain of better quality in the merger and thus was responsible for failure of the cooperative, and decided that the Armour Grain company owed the Grain Marketing company about $3,000,000. Of this amount, the Rosenbaum interests claimed about $1,600,000.

This sum, the principals said, was paid today. Following the payment, the Armour Grain company then was paid for its interests in Armour A and Armour B elevators, the Minnesota Elevator and the lease on the Northwestern Elevator. Acquisition of these properties gives to the Rosenbaum interests warehouse space for 18,000,000 bushels. Settlement of the claims and transfers of properties will not be affected by pending state legislation. It was stated, but the Illinois commerce commission must approve the transaction. Such approval is expected shortly.

SENTENCE WOMAN TO DEATH IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, June 25. (AP)—Mrs. Katherine Cassler of Crown Point, Ind., today became the third person of her sex to be sentenced to death in Illinois. Neither of the other two was hanged; however, one of them was acquitted at a second trial.

The death penalty was imposed reluctantly by Judge Philip L. Sullivan, who, even after the jury had returned its verdict, gave Mrs. Cassler a chance to change her plea to guilty and to be sentenced to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Cassler is the mother of four children. One of them, a boy 14 years old, her mother and her husband heard the death sentence passed upon her.

Trophies, medals and jewelry fill three upright cases. Pictures, clippings, official greetings and messages of congratulations occupy eleven flat topped cases.

PARITY WITH ENGLISH-U. S. ARMS DEMAND

ment by one high official that this government will not and cannot accept anything but parity with Great Britain on every class of ship.

British Agreed Once
The American government can see no reason why the British Empire should have superiority on account of trade routes or possessions or any other reason and it was emphasized that at the Washington arms conference the British delegation agreed to an equal ratio for all classes of ships. Coupled with the insistence upon naval parity was a strong belief that Great Britain will not press much farther her proposal to go back to the 1921 treaty to scale down the maximum tonnage agreed upon for battleships, airplane carriers and cruisers.

Recognizing that the British program, with rigid economy as its keynote, would be well received as good politics in European chancelleries, observers described it as a gesture which had never served its purpose. In the event the British do insist upon the treaty revision, however, it was expected that they would encounter the stern opposition of the Americans and Japanese. Ambassador Hugh Gibson, head of the American group, and the Japanese delegate have cabled the British proposal to their governments and negative answers from both capitals were forecast.

How your mantel needs that mahogany clock or those tall, thin candles. They tell you definitely where you can buy latest good things to increase your pleasure—help you know them intimately—as if already in your living-room, bedroom, bureau drawer. They tell of values that won't wear out in a hurry. Honest pleasures you might otherwise miss.

MODISH MITZI

Mitzi is Generous, But—

By Jay V. Jay

Mitzi has called Polly into consultation. The problem is so serious that she is likely to call the whole family into consultation. In the meantime Mitzi (notice her very short bloomers) wants to know just what of all the presents she brought back from Paris.

There's this odd new jewelry combining reptile leather with rhinestones that is so smart for all daytime wear. There's the set of buckle and shoulder pin of large rhinestones that is so new and attractive for evening frocks. Who is going to receive which?

The purse, of course, she'll keep for herself. In an absent-minded moment Mitzi had it monogrammed. The perky umbrella with the doll for a handle would please Eleanor, but hasn't Eleanor gone north for the summer? The parasol really connotes sunshine and lots of it.

The little aeroplane pin of stress is so timely that Mitzi must wear it herself. In short, you see our Mitzi, dressed in one of the new printed and plain linen ensembles, about to step out to a little shop uptown where they specialize in supplying imported gifts to returned travellers.

Tuesday—Mitzi's Frocks Impress the Goofer.

PHONELESS OFFICE SUBJECT TO DISPUTE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Five hundred employees and not a single telephone—that is the unique distinction of the general government accounting office over which Comptroller General McCall presides.

Stewart B. Tulloss, chief of the division, considers that its business is best transacted by correspondence and by that alone. Therefore, while his office is equipped with typewriters, calculating machines, mimeographs and other appliances of modern business, the ring of the telephone is a sound unknown.

Not everyone agrees with Tulloss, however, in his 'phoneless policy. The Department of Justice has been aroused to such an extent that Comptroller General McCall has been asked to alter the situation.

Attorneys of the department are often required to study files sent up by the claims division and frequently posers are encountered. Instead of being able to reach Tulloss immediately by telephone, a trip to the claims division is necessary, where further delay is encountered while cards are being sent in and an interview awaited.

Tulloss' policy, the attorneys claim, runs counter to that of Director General Lord of the Budget, who repeatedly has urged the elimination of correspondence in transaction of inter-departmental business and increased use of the telephone. This, says General Lord, makes for speed, efficiency and economy and reduces red tape.

CLUB IS ENTERTAINED
The Social Domestic Science club was entertained Friday at the home of Mrs. Jane Carter on East Superior avenue. Those acting as assistant hostesses included Katie Rhodes, Mrs. N. J. Blue and Ellen Cohen. One of the interesting features of the afternoon program was a song and recitation by little Merle Hoagson. Guests at the meeting were: Rev. and Mrs. T. A. Johnson, Grace Waffle, Lillian Corbin, Hattie Hobson, Louise Wright and Cornelia Carter.

CANDLES STILL LIGHT GEORGE TAVERN ROOMS

LONDON (AP)—The old George Tavern is about the only hotel left in London where a guest is shown to his bedroom by the light of a candle.

The ancient tavern contains many relics of Charles Dickens and pictures and photographs of London as it appeared in his day. It is situated in a courtyard which is reached by turning up a narrow lane out of Borough High Street, near London Bridge.

All bedrooms are furnished with huge old fashioned fourposter bedsteads. It is the only remaining hostelry in England's capital with an open wooden balcony running along outside the bedroom windows.

Shelves behind its tiny bar are laden with old pewter quart pots, relics of the old coaching days when thirsts were big and capacities unlimited. Hung upon the walls are cumbersome pistols, which were carried by the old night watchmen.

OLD COLLEGE HALL SEAT OF REUNIONS SINCE EARLY 60'S

Grinnell Building Houses Music, Literary and Classrooms

GRINNELL, Iowa, June 11. (AP)—As a gymnasium, chapel, hall for literary societies, classroom building and later as the home of the college school of music, Alama hall, the oldest building on the Grinnell college campus, was the center for various alumni reunions and reunions during the seventy-fourth commencement exercises last week.

It was erected on the foundation of the old "east college" built in the early sixties when the college was moved from Davenport to Grinnell.

In 1871 when east and west colleges, the two line buildings on the campus, were destroyed by fire, no effort was made to rebuild the former, although the foundation had not been impaired by the disaster.

Eleven years later the class of 1882 agreed that they would leave as their contribution to the college a new building which would replace the former east college.

Subscriptions received from seniors were increased to $8,000 by contributions from alumni. Plans for the building were drawn up by F. H. Taylor of Cedar Rapids, member of the class of 1876, and construction was about to begin, when the college was wrecked by the memorable cyclone of 1882.

On June 26, 1882, just nine days after the storm the cornerstone of Alumni hall was laid as a feature of the commencement exercises. Completed by Jan. 1, 1882, the building for a time was the only one on the campus.

In the last forty years Alumni hall has served for a wide variety of uses. The administration offices, the gymnasium, classrooms, library and all other college activities have been housed there at different times. Its entire space is now used by the college school of music.

WIMBLEDON TOURNAMENT IN QUARTER FINALS

Tilden and Hunter, in the quarter-finals, defeated the United States, were married in London. Tilden and Hunter, in the quarter-finals, defeated the United States, were married in London.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 25. (AP)—The Wimbledon tennis tournament ended tonight. With the men's singles narrowed to the last eight, four Frenchmen, Jacques Brugnon, Henri Cochet, Rene Lacoste and Jean Borotra, remain in competition. No Englishmen are left and the United States has only William T. Tilden and Francis T. Hunter. But there were ten Frenchmen and four Americans when the tournament started. The women's singles likewise have reached the quarter-finals with Helen Wills and Elizabeth Ryan among the eight survivors. No French players remain in competition but there are four English women left. Misses Joan Fry and Betty Nuthall, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Kitz McKane Godfree. Americans, however, remain favorites to capture both singles.

Tilden is the general choice to win in the men's division while Helen Wills shares the popular fancy with Mrs. Godfree in the women's singles.

Miss Wills reached the quarter-finals today by a pretty victory over Miss Elsie Goldsack of England, 6-1, 6-2. The English girl was completely baffled by the powerful strokes of the Californian.

In the absence of Suzanne Lenglen the tournament started off as a sort of "masculine year" but Betty Nuthall, sixteen year old English school girl has changed all that.

HANDY MANDY WINS BIG LATONIA RACE

LATONIA, Ky. June 25. (AP)—Handy Mandy, a Virginia filly today turned what had been predicted a very uninteresting Latonia derby into a historic classic which shattered the track and American records for the one and one-half mile.

Three lengths ahead of Dolan, the eastern colt, she finished and paid $9.25 for each $2 mutual ticket and collected for Hal Price Headley of Lexington, Ky., her owner, $24,250.

There were three big surprises in the finish. For Dolan, copped the second prize and War Eagle, one of the E. B. McLean entries, was third.

Jack and Buddy Bauer, picked generally for first and second, were tuckered out at the stretch and Rolled Stocking, who was given an outside chance to win, got unruly and put himself out of the running before the race was half done.

MISS VAN WIE WINS

Buffalo, N. Y. June 25. (AP)—Miss Virginia VanWise of Chicago, captured the 1927 championship of the seventh annual women's invitation golf tournament at the Buffalo Country Club today by defeating Louise Forgye of Youngstown, Ohio, four times Ohio State Championship, 4 and 3.

Cubs Tounce Pirates

PITTSBURGH, June 25 (AP)—The narrow margin held by Pittsburgh in the National League pennant race was further shortened today when the league leaders were defeated by Chicago, 6 to 4, giving the Cubs a clean sweep of the two game series. Hack Wilson, Chicago outfielder and leading home run hitter in the league cracked out his 15th circuit drive in the fifth inning, scoring Welch ahead of him. Pick of the Cubs and Caylor of Pittsburgh, also poled home runs. Score: Chicago . . . 011 120 010—6 10 1 Pittsburgh 002 000 002—4 8 0 Carlson and Hartnett, Aldridge, Morrison, Cveengros and Gooch.

Hornshy Has Perfect Day

PHILADELPHIA, June 25 (AP)—Hornshy and Terry led an attack on Jack Scott today that enabled New York to subdue the Phillies by 6 to 3. The Rajah had a perfect day at bat with a triple, two singles and two walks in five times up. His triple came with two on in the fifth. Terry smashed his 10th homer with Hornshy on base in the ninth besides connecting for two safeties earlier in the game. Braves and Robins Split

BROOKLYN, N. Y. June 25 (AP)—Brooklyn split a twin encounter with Boston today, annexing the first contest by 4 to 3, and dropping the night cap by 7 to 3. Max Carey's all around brilliant playing was a feature of the first game in which Bill Doak weakened in the seventh after six innings of shut out ball. Carey had four hits, including a triple in four times up, stole a base and cut off prospective tying run with a great throw to the plate in the eighth. The Robins made thirteen hits off Goldsmith in the second game but left 12 runners stranded on the sacks. Butler hit a homer with two on for all of Brooklyn's.

'FAN BREEZES'

Today's our day for making apologies.

The first tee shot we made yesterday was not so good, but the one we made toward the sixth hole was a dinger.

And then, there was a mistake in the standings of the Twilight League teams printed in yesterday's issue. The State Hospital has lost two games and won two, putting the Press and the Capps team in a tie for second place.

The Mohawks gained one game, and have now won five and lost one game.

Just for fun, we thought we would try to keep count of number of strokes it took us to go around the Nichols park course yesterday but after we had counted to 53 we lost count and finished the last three holes without enumerating the strokes.

We were standing out in front of the office the other night and heard a conversation which went something like this:

Fair One—Now before starting this ride, I want you to understand that I do not drink, smoke or flirt. I visit no wayside inns and I expect to be home by 10 o'clock.

Young Lothario—You're mistaken.

Fair One—What! You mean that I do any of these things?

Young Lothario—No, I mean about starting on this ride.

And if you believe we heard it, go over in the corner and stand on your ear.

Our staff artist, the one that draws all these funny pictures, has invited us out to lunch tomorrow.

And if he takes us to some one arm lunch room we are going to be angry. We got tired eating in them all the time.

Voice over the telephone—Is my husband there?

Voice from the office—No, he just left. Call the other office.

We heard indirectly the other day that our swimming lessons were greatly appreciated because this certain person followed instruction up to the point where the sinking comes in and didn't sink.

It was suggested that we give a few lessons on diving.

Take the position of the woman in the above picture. Jump up and down madly on the spring board. If you jump long enough you are nearly certain to miss the board some time and there, and then you will have the first lesson on diving.

One of the main things to remember about diving is to be sure that the head goes in before the feet. Anyhow, that is the accepted form of diving.

It is equally as much considered poor form when the surface of one side of the body hits the water at the same time. In fact, when such a thing happens, it produces a warm feeling, and swimming is a sport designed to cool the body.

Don't go too straight down either. Always pick out a place where the water is more than six feet deep.

Oh well, we'll show you some day.

Senators Have Big Rounds

Boston, June 25. (AP)—Two big innings in which they accumulated a total of eight runs, enabled Washington to defeat Boston in the second game of the series today, 8 to 3. It was the seventh game the Red Sox had lost this week. The Senators bunched hits in two innings to pile up their total. In the ninth Braxton struckout the first two batters to face him. Shanner the third up, knocked a home run and the fourth man up fanned.

Yankees Lose A Pair

New York, June 25. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics handed the Yankees a double drubbing today by 7 to 6 and 4 to 2. Breaking New York's winning streak which had been stretched to nine straight. At the same time the Mackmen sheared two full games off the Yanks' hold on the league pennant, which is now eight contests.

In the first tussle, Lefty Grove worked well up to the ninth striking out ten batters. Three successive hits were bunched off him in the final frame and he gave way to Pate who barely held the Philadelphia lead. New York had four runs in and runners on third and first when Lou Gehrig was called out on strikes to end the game.

Babe Ruth again had trouble with his right knee and retired after the first inning of the final struggle. Lamar's bat was responsible for the Yank's downfall in the second game. He hit a home run in the first inning and after New York took the lead in the sixth, crashed a triple with two on base.

BUCCANEER TRIO HOLD TOP PLACES IN BLOWS

Frisch Passes Hornsby In Hitting Column—Southworth Breaks Into First Ten In National League.

CHICAGO, June 25.—It may be long before the safe for Sam Bronckow to walk the streets of St. Louis again, and perhaps remark "I told you so" for Frankie Frisch, the erstwhile giant who went to St. Louis in a trade for the favorite Rogers Hornsby, has finally passed Hornsby in the batting averages. Figures compiled today including Wednesday's games, give Frisch .381 and Hornsby .376.

They have played in the same number of games and Frisch has lined out nine more hits, even though many of them did not travel quite so far as those which bounded off Hornsby's club.

Frisch's efforts have taken some of the spotlight beams away from the Pirate trio who still dominate the National League's list of premier hitters—Clyde Barnhart, Joe Harris, and Paul Waner.

They are in that order this week, Harris slumping a bit more than Barnhart in the past week. Even the redoubtable Harris could not stick for long at a batting mark of .451, though he is still above .400. Tied with Waner for third place is Mueller of the Giants, who takes this week's batting honors with nine hits in three games, raising his figures from .381 to .391.

The other newcomer in today's list in the National League is Bill Southworth of the Cardinals. Freddie Lindstrom of the Giants found the pace a bit too swift and dropped back. Mueller's performance edged out Glenn Wright of Pittsburgh, although the Pirate shortstop's figures remained unchanged at .340.

Spies Meadows of Pittsburgh is the leading pitcher today, with a row of ten victories to one loss. Jess Haines of St. Louis has 11 wins and Charley Root of the Cubs 12, but with several defeats. Crowding these two is old grover Alexander, who pitched out of turn Wednesday to down his old team, the Cubs, for his ninth.

Leading hitters in the National League: Barnhart, Pittsburgh, .418; Harris, Pittsburgh, .417; P. Waner, Pittsburgh, .401; Mueller, New York, .391; Frisch, St. Louis, .381; Hornsby, New York, .376; Farrell, Boston, .375; Harper, New York, .353; Southworth, St. Louis, .351; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .345.

QUINCY MAYOR WINS ROCKFORD GOLF MEET

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 25 (AP).—Charles Weems, the 32 year old mayor of Quincy, Ill., won the fourth annual invitational tournament of the Rockford Country Club here this afternoon from Frank Welsh, Rockford, in a 19 hole match.

A high wind brought the scores of both finalists up to 78 for 18 holes, higher than either one of them is in the habit of shooting.

Welsh was one down on Weems at the seventeenth hole. The Rockford contestant laid down a beautiful drive to the edge of the green, while Weems landed in the rough after his ball hit a spectator. Welsh's second shot took him on the green from which place two putts were necessary to hole out. Weems' second shot put him in a trap just off the green from which place he took three shots to hole out. Weems' drive direct-ly on to the green in the playoff put him way out in front. Welsh taking his turn cutting out of a trap for a five while Weems was turning in an easy three to win the match.

LONGEST SHOT WINS

East St. Louis, Ill., June 25. (AP).—Banton, owned by E. Morehouse, the longest shot on the board, led Princess Doreen by a fraction of a nose in the $5,000 Hotel Statler handicap at a mile and a sixteenth at the Fairmount track near here today. Helen's Babe was third and Cologomer fourth.

The winner paid $25 for a $2 ticket.

BOSTON, June 25. (AP).—Fred Haney, Red Sox infielder, was suspended today by Manager Bill Carrigan for an infraction of club discipline. The nature of Haney's offense was not made public. No term was set for the suspension.

Golden Chalice

MY BROTHER'S FACE. By Dhan Gopal Mukerji. E. P. Dutton & Co. $3.00.

Reviewed by CAROLINE HUMPHREY REID

It was Charles Lamb, was it not?—who said: "How I hate that man!"—"But—do you know him?"—"No, but I don't want to know him."—"Why?"—"Because if I did I couldn't hate him." Has not that until of late years been perhaps unconsciously the attitude of the West toward the Far East?

For those of us who heard Dr. Mukerji here last winter and were impressed with his earnestness and his charming personality, it may be difficult to pass an impartial judgment upon his writings; but I have read with great interest "Caste and Outcast" and "My Brother's Face," and feel that the comment of the critics upon the former may with even greater justice be applied to the latter, which is a more mature and scholarly work. "We ought to have a book like this," they said, "written by a chosen youth from every nation in the world." It contains the most precious kind of knowledge—the knowledge of another race and civilization.

Both books are written in faultless English enriched with jeweled metaphor and Oriental imagery. How stark and bare "pure" English must seem to one "born with the peacock's colors in his imagination," who has learned to dress in Sanscrit, the "language of the Gods."

Dr. Mukerji has admirably performed the task of presenting, each to the other, two widely divergent civilizations which are still parts of one whole. Their merits and their defects are shown in such a spirit of love and sympathy as should do much toward bridging the almost impassable gulf between the two. It is only now, since the industrial advance and upheaval of China and India in the present generation has drawn upon them the attention of the entire thinking world, that we of the New West have come to know and in some measure to understand our Brothers of the Orient. Civilizations which were old before the republics of the west were born, their Wise Men hold as in a golden chalice the wisdom of past generations. They have trodden the wine-press alone, and hold rich draughts of the revivifying wine of human experience to our reluctant lips.

The West in its eagerness for "Progress" has helped to hasten these ancient peoples into an advance for which they were not prepared; initiated them into social movements foreign to their nature and created conditions they were not ready to meet. In the throes of a widespread industrial revolution the East, shaken and bewildered, holds out hands of appeal for understanding and sympathy, and it is one of the most hopeful signs of the times that along all the lines of intercommunication—political, social and religious—criticism today is losing its bitterness and sympathy is radiating.

Of the hundreds of young men of the Orient trained in the colleges and universities of Europe and America, the most return to their native land, to aid with their material knowledge and industrial training in the bewildering social and economic problems which confront a rapidly changing state. They are men whose superb memory-training and ingrained habits of "meditation" have fitted them to absorb the details of our vaunted civilization and graft western industrialism upon oriental idealism. Heaven grant the "Spirit of Progress" does not weaken their high idealism, and that their ancestral search for Truth be not turned into a mad struggle for Wealth.

A comparative few of these men remain among us, to lecture or to teach, and by personal influence to strengthen the bonds of good fellowship with the land of their adoption. One such is Dr. Mukerji. He is a high-caste Hindu, of an ancient Brahmin family, and while still a mere boy performed the office of Priest in the temple which has been in the care of his ancestors for centuries. But the urge of the Soul's seeker was upon him, and with the coarse robe and the "begging bowl" he set forth on the quest for that Truth which "feeds the universe on its mother's breast." He made pilgrimages to the sacred cities and the Holy Ones of India, to Japan and China, and at last—a 20th Century Columbus—fell on his knees and kissed the soil of the land of Promise. He came without money, an outcast hungry for knowledge that "knowledge like bread, had to be paid for, and has won for himself an honored place among the 'caste' of America.

After twelve years of absence he returned to his native land seeking the "age-old peace of India—the Changeless behind the face of change." "My Brother's Face" is a graphic record of his findings: India in the throes of a social revolution, modern progress "slashing its way through the beauty and squalor of the Renaissance—a bewildering kaleidoscope of incongruities. It is a book of talk, much in it that we shall remember so much that we wish we might tell.

TO SATURN

Adept upon the pivot of the Sun,
In perfect geometric grace she reels,
The years and ages merging into one—
Forever on and on, forever hounded
By eight resplendent satellites; surrounded
By three thin flat concentric spokeless wheels,
Mere films of fog, or immaterial light,
The brightest at the outer edge—like dust,
Yet faintly radiant in that far night,
The disk that bends toward her curving bust.
In reckless tarentelle, the brilliant jade!
She tips aloft in mock eternal flight
The frenzied whorls of gossamer that fade
Against her shapely thighs in masquerade
Had I been first to see you in the heights
So confidently vested in the grace
Of words, I could have craved no rarer place
Of Fame than room among your satellites
And in the wake of marvels ever new
To newer eyes, trailing where distance lends
Glory and understanding, and befriends
The contemplating mind and spirit too.
Spin on, spin on in fatal ecstasy,
To some celestial music far or near,
Till worlds to judgment come—till you are doomed
Spin on unwearied, peerless World, and free
To music such as I may never hear,
Or hearing, might be maddened, or consumed.

Bells on Her Toes

ON THE SLOPE OF MONTMARTRE. By William Wallace Irwin. Frederick A. Stokes Co. 1927. $2.00.

Reviewed by JOHN KEARNS

Dedicated to William Beebe, student of animal nature, by this student of human nature, the book is a collection of word-etchings of the sights and the citizens of a famous quarter of the Mistress of the World, Paris.

The butcher, the baker, the candlestick-maker, their petty lives and occupations, dipped in a solution of genial understanding and human sympathy—yes, humor, keen and satirical at times, and frankly a little overdone just for the sake of doing it.

At most three or four pages long, many of these little descriptive essays are gems of Parisian character exposition—not for local use, but for the consumption of the tourists that throng there and will no doubt acknowledge with smiles or wonder the points he makes.

The butcher who has phenomenal lungs, the coalman who is a carboniferous giant, the policeman who can stand anything but being called a "cow," the little brown wine-merchant who refers all questions to his better half, the knife-sharpener whose weakness is snuff—to mention a few of the sketches.

And from the dinner at Marguerite's we go to the Bal Tabarin, thence to Pigalle, and on to the Grotto, yes, and the Perroquet—up the hill and down the scale, it would appear. Perfumes, champagne, cigarettes, jazz and the ruffled dancers—it is all the high life of Paris for the benefit of the American visitors. I should rather say it was American life almost to the amazement of the native Frenchman.

But it is not the French alone that suffer from the author's style and wit—the American tourist also gets it in the rubber. They are so anxious to learn, so afraid to betray ignorance, and so full of preconceptions that they misunderstand half of what they see.

Our neighbors and cooks and taxi-drivers, the flower-girl, the street-sweeper, the street-singer—all are found to have points of interest worthy of mention by one who observes them with sympathy and a real desire to understand the other half of the world, that ordinarily is so little esteemed, if indeed it is acknowledged to exist.

The illustrations in duotone, even at all necessary, but in delightful harmony with the text, are by Marcel Poncin.

FIREMEN ARE TAUGHT FIGHTING METHODS

Chief Hunt Returns From School
At University, Where Men
Learn How To Handle Blazes—To Plan Course Soon In Chicago.

Chief Samuel Hunt of the local fire department returned Friday night from Champaign, where he attended the state fire school held at the University of Illinois. The attendance at the school this year was the largest ever recorded. Some 250 fire chiefs and firemen from all sections of the state attended the courses of instruction.

School was in session from 8:30 to 12 o'clock and from 1:30 to 5 o'clock every day, and the time was spent in practical fire drills and demonstration. One of the crack fire companies from Chicago gave the men all sorts of demonstrations. Instruction was given by several well known chiefs and men high up in the fire fighter's profession.

The students worked on buildings four to six stories high, learning how to handle hose on the fire escapes and to jump into fire nets. The state legislature has made an appropriation of $8,000 for the building of a drill tower at the university for the use of the school. This tower will be the height of a four-story building.

The purpose of the fire school is to teach firemen uniform methods of fighting fires. This will be an advantage where fire companies from different communities assemble to fight a big blaze. All will use the same methods and there will be no conflict of work. The fireman's work is becoming a business and can be done according to scientific methods.

Sometime next month members of the executive board of the State Firemen's Association, of whom Chief Hunt is one, will meet in Chicago with the state fire marshals and several Chicago fire chiefs to plan the course for the school to be held at the University next year. These schools are being rapidly adopted in many states and they have existed in the larger cities for a number of years.

Hospital to Observe Fourth On Big Scale

Plans are complete for the biggest and best annual observance of Independence Day yet to be staged at the Jacksonville State Hospital for the hundreds of patients there. And when it is taken into consideration that the hospital authorities plan for a celebration on a larger scale than has been true of former years, citizens of the city and county who are familiar with Independence Day entertainments at the hospital will know that this year's celebration will be a huge event and on an equal with celebrations usually staged by large municipalities.

Planned with but one thought in mind, that of entertaining the 2,500 patients at the state institution, the large campus facilities allow for an audience of hundreds of spectators in addition to the state hospital patients. Citizens of Jacksonville and Morgan county are welcome to share in the splendid entertainment of the day and evening with the inmates at the hospital.

The huge celebration conceived by Dr. E. L. Hill, managing officer of the hospital, several years ago has become a fixed part of the year's program of occupational and recreational therapy, which has contributed so much toward brightening the lives of the hundreds of mentally ill at the institution.

Occupational and recreational therapy is the most modern and effective treatment yet devised for insane persons, according to authorities familiar with this mode of treatment and it is carried forth on a huge scale at the hospital with results that are remarkable.

New playground equipment will be initiated at the celebration in connection with the observance of the Fourth. It consists of a twelve foot see saw, an ocean waver, a twenty foot slide chute, a bump the bump slide and eight new swings. The equipment will be placed with the playground apparatus now in use on the hospital grounds.

The elaborate plans for the Fourth include arrangement for the parking of hundreds of cars which will bring spectators. Traffic officers at the hospital and in the city will be assisted by state highway patrolmen.

Program for Day
The program for the day will open at 9 o'clock when the patients assemble on the lawn. The display of these set pieces there will be a large number of bombs, sirens, surprise boxes, alarm shells, rockets, etc.

Music throught the day will be furnished by the State Hospital band. There will also be a display of exhibits from the hospital on the lawn, for examination of visitors throught the day.

The patients will be assembled in a group under the supervision of nurses and physicians. The east band stand will be used by the musicians and the west stand will be fitted up as an emergency hospital with nurses and physicians in readiness for any happening during the day.

The concessions will be in charge of the hospital Boy Scouts troop. Throught the day there will be distributed among the patients seven boxes of lemons, twenty-two boxes of oranges, 2,500 pounds of bananas, 900 pounds of peanuts, 1,000 packages of chewing gum and 1,500 cigars.

The decorations will be appropriate for the occasion. The 133 Main street and a decorating company will be placed along South Main street and a decorating company will be placed along the main building of the institution.

A large amount of the money required to stage the celebration is raised by the patients themselves thru their occupational work.

A. B. I. C. CONVENTION CLOSES WITH BANQUET

"Lindy" Creates Diversion in Closing Program—Rev. M. L. Pontius Delivers Impressive Final Address.

The final banquet and program of the tenth conference of Industrial managers of the American Bankers Insurance Co., was held last evening in the home of office recreation hall, with an attendance of some three hundred employees and visitors. C. Y. Rowe presided as master of ceremonies. The guests were provided with plenty of noise making instruments, and the hall was decorated in flags and bunting. Gayly colored caps were worn by the guests.

The mass singing was led by F. E. Wamamaker, and several numbers were given by the American Bankers quartet made up of Messrs. Wamamaker, Colton, Franklin and Harney. One of the amusing features on the program was the arrival of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, which was heralded by a telegram from St. Louis stating that he would stop for twenty minutes on his flight from St. Louis to Chicago. Col. Lindbergh gave an amusing account of his adventures of the past few weeks, after a flowery introduction by Chester Colton. The Colonel stated that he had been thru some exciting times, told his flight to Paris, of his reception, his return trip, his reception in Washington, etc. He even hazarded an opinion that President and Mrs. Coolidge did not live on corned beef and cabbage, even if the president does talk economy, and he based that opinion on his experience at Washington.

All during "Lindy's" address, there was some question as to his identity. The voice sounded strangely familiar, and there were those in the audience who suspected that he was none other than State's Attorney Hugh Green. And so it proved, for the presiding officer explained later that Mr. Green had been persuaded to play the part of Col. Lindbergh.

Supervisor John F. Boyet was next introduced and, in behalf of the field men, presented President P. H. Rowe with a handsome watch. He expressed the appreciation of the men for the kindness and hospitality shown them by the company during the conference and wished the president many more successful years of his presidency of the company.

Mr. Rowe responded in a fitting way, saying that the gift impressed him deeply and that he would pledge the men to be reminded of their loyalty every time he looked at the watch. He spoke of the company as a firm of opportunity for those who would do its work faithfully and loyally. He urged the men to carry a message of inspiration from the conference back to the boys in the field who had made an honest effort to win the trip to the home office, but who had not reached the goal. He also spoke in praise of the wives of the men, who he said, had held their coats while they worked for the success of the company. He said the American Bankers had been spoken of as a most human organization and that it would remain as near to that ideal as possible.

Pontius Speaks

The conference was closed with an inspiring address by Rev. M. L. Pontius. He referred in the opening of his remarks to Lincoln and Gladstone, the two outstanding great men of the past century in the Anglo-Saxon world, and ascribed as the reason of their greatness, their patriotism, not the kind of patriotism which shouts and throws its hat in the air and then forgets, but the real brand that considers life too precious to squander and waste in wrong doing, yet considers life so cheap that any holy cause may have it for the asking.

Rev. Pontius referred to our country as one in which the rights of the individual are recognized and protected. One of the chief causes of the decline and fall of nations has been their failure to recognize the inherent rights of men as individuals. Our country is its foundation in a sacred social contract between the individual citizen and his government, by which the one agrees to extend protection and safety to the other, and the citizen in his turn pledges loyalty and devotion to the government. The federal constitution sets forth the inherent rights of the men; it is the duty of our government, and should be recognized and upheld as such.

In the home community the knocker has no place. If the community does not suit him, he should find one he can honestly boost. The person who finds himself at cross purposes with his community should isolate himself for a certain time—each day and listen to his own soul's meditations, and find out if possible why his attitude is what it is and if it is possible to change it.

Finally, there is the business in which all of us are engaged. We are not as a rule satisfied to have it grow slowly. We are impatient for results and unwilling to stand the sacrifice which must come if a business is to grow. If we are at present prosperous and successful, it is because someone ahead of us in the business sacrificed and suffered for it.

In closing the speaker said that there is a spirit which is regal in our lives, which commands and issues the orders which lie back of our every act. It is this spirit which he wished to reach, he said and to inspire it to cause the men

FOURTH DIVISION OF REGULAR ARMY TO HOLD REUNION

Will Commemorate Tenth Anniversary of Formation

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP)—For the first time since the war the fourth division of the regular army will hold a reunion here June 30. It will mark the tenth anniversary of the formation of the division and its entrance into the world war.

Col. C. A. Bach, chief of staff
during the war, and now connected with army headquarters in Washington, and General Mark L.
Hersey, commanded the division
during the war, will be invited.
For the first time in the central west ten reels of official moving pictures of the fourth division in action in France will be shown thru the courtesy of the U. S.
Signal Corps in the grand ball room of the Hotel LaSalle where the reunion is to be held.
Landing in France in April, 1918 the fourth division took part in the battle of the Aisne-Marne
along the Chateau Thierry front, experiencing heavy fighting along the Vesle River where the enemy were strongly entrenched on the heights and their artillery practically controlled the river. Later the division entered the St. Mihiel drive in the Toulon Sector southeast of Verdun and played an important part in during the drive.

On the night of September 19-20th the division took part in the greatest battle in the history of the world, the mighty struggle of the Argonne. The division was in action 85 days, suffering losses of 492 officers and 12,456 men, and captured 2,856 prisoners and an immense quantity of enemy guns
and war materials.

Every fourth division man is requested to send his name and address to the Fourth Division Association Headquarters, 159 N.
State Street, Chicago, for further information on the reunion.

AUSTRIANS SERENADE REICHSTAG PRESIDENT

BERLIN. (AP)—A serenade by singers from another country in celebration of his recovery from a serious illness is a distinction which Paul Loeb, president of the reichstag, probably enjoys alone of presiding officers of the world's parliamentary bodies.

Loeb several months ago had an acute attack of appendicitis.
After a prolonged cure at Bad Mergentheim he was at last able to resume his duties. He had just finished presiding over his first meeting amid a sea of flowers sent by colleagues and friends, when the halls of the reichstag building
resounded with male chorus songs.
The singers were railway employees from Vienna, on a visit to the German capital.

Loeb is very popular in Austria as he heads an organization working for the political union of Germany and Austria.

Manufacturing Centers of the United States Moving South and West

BABOON PARK, Mass., June 24—
During the past three weeks Roger Babson has been making a survey of manufacturing conditions in the West and South. He has returned very optimistic on opportunities in certain Southern states and believes that the West will continue to do more and more manufacturing. His complete statement is as follows:
Difficulties Facing New England
Manufacturers.

"For some time my New England friends have been complaining about the poor conditions of the textile mills and the shoe factories of New England. Moreover, their statements have been backed up by statistics.
All published figures show that most
New England mills have been suffering severely the past two or three years. This has resulted in a decline in the price of many mill stocks
and a general breaking up of morale.
Considering what New England has done for the entire country, and especially considering that New England created the textile industry and the shoe industry this is at least unfortunate if not unjust. We know that New England has the capital and the brains to compete successfully with any part of the country. Moreover, its waterpower possibilities
should give it very cheap hydro-electric service.

"Upon going West I visited St.
Louis and some of the other western shoe manufacturing centers. As reported, I found these busy. The St.
Louis factories, which are now among the largest in the world, are very busy; while shoe factories in the smaller towns are not complaining.
When reaching the textile centers of the South, I found the Southern cotton mills exceptionally busy. Many mills are working not only all day,
but also all night. Coming from New England as I did (where mills are shut down entirely or working only two or three days a week) to the Southland and finding the mills
working twenty-four hours a day,
the change was very impressive. Moreover, the Southern manufacturers are apparently happy and hopeful.

Southern Success Due To Labor
"In talking with some of the large mill owners of the South, I referred to the report in the North that Mr. Hines, the new head of the Cotton Manufacturers Association, has been given the task of 'eliminating night work in the Southern mills.'
Southern manufacturers are very indignant at this report stating that Mr. Hines' job is to secure additional markets and find additional use for cotton goods. This clearly illustrates the two different points of view between the North and the South.
Southern mills are running nights primarily because there is an excess labor supply, but also because it is so cool nights that the employees prefer night work. I see little hope of getting Southern mills not to run nights so long as they can sell the goods. I cannot speak too highly of the character of the Southern white labor who are working in these mills.
They are a fine lot of men and women who come from the mountains with health, ambition and desire to work.

"There is a spirit of friendliness and co-operation in these Southern mills which is unknown in New England cities. Of course, this same situation once existed in Lowell and Lawrence and other Massachusetts mill centers, and the South may not enjoy this condition fifty years hence, but today labor conditions there are ideal. It is a mistake to think that Southern mills are successful because they are near the cotton fields, or that Western shoe factories are successful because they are near the ranches. Freight rates on raw cotton or leather are very low and are little or no factor in the price of the manufactured product. The Southern advantage lies in these four factors:
(1) An inexhaustible supply of efficient and happy American labor.
(2) A climate which gives long days
makes night work attractive and supplies an abundance of fresh air and sunshine. (3) A low cost of living in connection with food supplies,
rent, fuel and clothes. (4) An abundant of water power at very low rates.

Why Western Factories Are Growing

"While in the East the small manufacturer seems to be severely handicapped today, this is not so true in the West. While the big corporations seem to be getting most of the profitable business in the East, the small manufacturers of the West continue to do a fair business. To a certain extent this is due to better labor conditions and a lower cost of living in the West than in the East. There also seems to be a certain local pride and interest in 'patronizing home industries.' Moreover, the increased freight rates on manufactured products help Western factories. When the railroads raise rates on manufactured products it serves as a protective tariff against the big factories of the East. This is another illustration of the old saying that every cloud has a silver lining. Without doubt, increased freight rates raise the prices which the consumer must pay, but increased freight rates help local industries. This, in turn, gives more employment to local people and diversifies the income producing factors of these Western communities.

"As new industries are started in the Western states these states are less dependent on merely agriculture.
Hence, the one important impression

which this recent trip gave me is that the South and West will not stop with the manufacture of cotton, shoes, automobiles, etc. The inexhaustible supply of labor in Kentucky, Tennessee, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama and other Southern states, together with the tremendously valuable water power, will lead to the development of manufacturing in other lines. Horace Greeley's advice to young men
'to go West' is still good, but today
it would be for manufacturing purposes rather than for farming adventures. Moreover, were Mr. Greeley alive today, I am sure he would add 'the South' to his famous dictum.

General Business Outlook
"During this trip I did not find business any better than was expected. The volume of business is good everywhere, but it is very hard to make profits on declining commodity prices. Many manufacturers called to my attention that this is the first time in history that commodity prices have declined while the country enjoyed a period of prosperity. They all wonder how long they can continue to keep their plants going and at the same time reduce prices. I tell them that they are just learning that the great World War is over. Apparently many manufacturers and merchants have failed to recognize this fact. This especially applies to the price of farm lands. Those farmers operating on pre-war conditions are doing very well, but those who still think the war is on and expect to continue to receive wartime prices
for land and grains are naturally unhappy, even though the Babsonchart
still registers 8 per cent above normal.

"In conclusion let me say that I still have faith in New England. New England has always been handicapped.
Its natural resources from the first consisted only of rocks and bushes; it has always lacked the rich
fertile soil, the great timber forests,
the inexhaustible ore supplies and the other natural resources of the West and South. On the other hand

New England, lacking these natural resources, has had to develop its industry, courage, thrift, and initiative which has been invaluable. These qualities have in the past more than compensated the natural resources of other sections.

Because of these rugged qualities,
New England has been able to build
the railroads to the Pacific Coast, finance the cities of the West, and erect the mills and factories of these sections which are now competing with her. There is no reason why New England cannot continue to develop and lead in sterling qualities, and if so, she will lead economically as well. I have faith in New England and call to the attention of the rest of the country the fact that in the end these sterling qualities, courage, thrift, and initiative win triumph over the material advantages of the material advantages of these
other sections.

LAY NEW TRACK ON ALTON R. R.

With the windup of the rail laying between Hopedale and Bloomington and Natrona and Greenville, a distance of 37 miles, which has been the feature of this year's maintenance work in the district, the entire Jacksonville division of the Chicago and Alton is now supplied with 90-pound re-rolled rail with the exception of the six miles on the westbound double track between Murrayville and Roodhouse, which will hold over until next year. Replacement of the old 80-pound rail on the Jacksonville division was started more than a year ago and has just been completed, placing this district in the front rank of first class track and permitting high speed for the sections of 84 and 86, high speed freight which require passenger train movement. The rehabilitation of the Jacksonville division is a source of satisfaction to operating and maintenance officials alike and advances this section of the road until it is now on a par with the main line. Ten miles of the 27 between Bloomington and Hopedale is laid with 100-pound re-rolled rail, but the remainder is 90-pound.

FILL UP THE BOWL

On the top of the hill
In Jacksonville
Is a mound
Where the ground
Is higher perhaps than for miles around.
Here the people created,
Or excavated,
An out-of-door theater, dedicated
To the memory of Jacksonville's first centennial.
A thing of beauty and joy perennial.
Here entertainments with drama and song
Could be given in the open air all summer long.
In order its classical lines to extol
'Twas named the Greek Theater—They called it The Bowl.
In selling the tickets to cover the cost,
There was certainly no opportunity lost.
Every one interested,
When duly requested,
Every one who had money or effort invested
Labored heart and soul
To attain the goal
Expressed in the slogan, Let's fill up The Bowl.

Great Jupiter Pluvius, god of the rain,
Of thunder and lightning, came down to the plain,
And tried to do the deed
With his difficult role
Of chief god of Olympus, was out for a stroll,
Which led him by chance to a grass-covered knoll,
In the center of which was a marvelous bowl.
"Twas made for the gods to quench their thirst!
From a goblet like this they could drink till they burst."
But Jupiter Pluvius
Stepping near, grew dubious.
"Just wait half a minute!
There's nothing to it.
It's dry as perdition
Or prohibition.
There's but one thing to do. We must fill up The Bowl!"
Then he called for his minions
And asked for opinions—
Sprites, elves, gnomes and goblins throughout his dominions;
Every thirty soul,
Every wood-nymph and troll,
Voted Yes on the motion to fill up The Bowl.
The Nads
And Drads
And ghosts of the Drads
Came carrying vessels with all kinds of fluids;
Demoniacal miscreants out on parole
Brought unmentionable liquids to pour in The Bowl.
.....

The sun had been shining the whole day long;
The players were ready with mirth and song;
The stage had been set and the cast was on hand;
The audience, the actors, the big brass band;
And Old King Cole
That merry old soul,
With his pipe and his fiddlers was up in The Bowl.
As the curtain was raised it began to pour.
It rained as it never had rained before.
The water came down
And flooded the town;
The inhabitants feared that they all should drown.
It rained all that year and the next one too.
It rained the whole summer and winter through.
The rivers grew rampant and left their beds,
And cattle and horses were drowned in their sheds,
Whole cities and towns were inundated
And farms and plantations were devastated.
The weather man prayed and pleaded in vain
With the god to relent and let up on the rain.
But he swore that he never
Would cease his endeavor.
He would cause it to rain on forever and ever;
The lightning to flash and the thunder to roll
Until doomsday if needed, to Fill up The Bowl.

At length the whole nation,
In sheer desperation,
Demanded some action in self preservation;
That something be done about filling The Bowl.
They said 'twas a Jonah;
That we never had known a
Day's peace since we started to work on The Bowl.
There had been no cessation
Of precipitation
Since the ill-fated hour when we finished The Bowl.
After much hesitation
And some trepidation,
With enormous amount of expert computation,
The mayor and aldermen filled out the papers
For workmen provided with shovels and scrapers
To Fill up The Bowl.

But Jupiter Plu
Said that never would do;
And proceeded to raise such a hullabaloo
That the council its ill-advised order withdrew.
'Twas a work of Art
And he hadn't the heart
To permit its destruction in whole or in part.
Some said he repented,
But this he resented,
Though he freely admitted that he had relented,
And abandoned his plans about filling The Bowl.
He would order his followers all to desert;
An order not one of them dared to resist;
Wraiths, demons and other rebellious immortals
He would send back to Hades and close all the portals.
There should be no more storms that would hoo-doo the game;
There should be no more floods that were worthy the name.
.....

Once more the sun had been shining all day;
Once more the players were ready to play;
The audience had gathered from far and near
All agog and intent both to see and to hear.
The box office sold
For silver and gold
Seat tickets for all that the structure would hold.
At last they gave orders the selling to stop.
Every seat had been taken from bottom to top.
'Twas a glorious night;
The stars shone bright;
The Bowl was indeed a most beautiful sight.
The Rainbow of Promise surmounted the whole
And on it inscribed was WE'VE FILLED UP THE BOWL.

The above verses very cleverly telling the story of Jacksonville's outdoor theatre, were written by Dr. David W. Reid and were read at a recent meeting of the Literary Union.

Legion, as compared with 45,544 in 1926, a gain this year of 5177. Portugal is modernizing her navy with 30 new war units. These will include cruisers, destroyers, submarines and two heavy cruisers.

Two towers and a cloister are to be erected on the campus at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., as a memorial to 238 students who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

Former service men must be members of the American Legion for the years 1926 and 1927 to be entitled to attend the national convention of the organization in Paris next September.

During the World War, 600,000 Jews were enrolled in the Russian forces, 300,000 in the Austrian army and 100,000 with the Germans. Fully 200,000 Jews served in the armies of the Allies.

The 15th U. S. Infantry, guarding part of the Tientsin-Peking Railway in China, are mounted. Their mounts are Mongolian ponies, which range from 13 to 14 hands in height and average about 700 pounds in weight.

The British Legion, composed of 400,000 members, is organizing a series of excursions for its members next summer to the battlefields of France and Belgium. It is estimated that 15,000 ex-service men will take part in these excursions.

A heroic wreath was launched upon the waters in mid-ocean on Memorial Day, by Capt. Theodore Van Beek, of the United States liner President Harding, in the name of the Masonic fraternity, in memory of brethren who lost their lives at sea during the World War.

Because of the many applications being placed by Pennsylvania Legionnaires and their families to attend the ninth annual American Legion convention in Paris this year, a second ship had to be added to carry the additional members. More than 1200 requests have been filled.

According to the opinion of Attorney General W. O. Wilson, a German who fought for the Fatherland in the World War is entitled to a $2000 exemption under Wyoming's tax law. While it evidently was the intent of the lawmakers to favor only American veterans of the World War, the Attorney General said, there was no specific provision barring any veterans of the World War from claiming the exemption.

Of the 700,000 soldiers listed in France at the present time, 404,606 are either legless or armless or have but one arm or leg; 235,884 have consumption or lung troubles of various kinds; 27,281 have eye injuries, including 2585 who are completely blind; 17,730 have ear deformations, including 4338 who are totally deaf; 5588 have disfigured faces, and 14,602 are mentally deranged.

The U. S. Government has been paying pensions since 1790, and in this period has disbursed more than $7,000,000,000 for this purpose. With the addition of children, mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters of soldiers and nurses, the pension roll now numbers more than half a million. The payments go to all the States—the largest total to Ohio and the smallest to Nevada. Pensions also go to Alaska and the Canal Zone and to all the insular possessions, as well as to 67 foreign countries.

Through provisions of a bill just passed by Congress, members of the American Legion who go to Paris next September for the ninth annual convention will be saved around $150,000 in steamer fare taxes. The removal of the steamship tax is but one of the several provisions made by the France convention committee of the Legion that will result in an average saving of $175 each for veterans going to Paris. The steamship tax measure stipulates that the tax of $5 on steamship tickets shall not apply to tickets held by the Legion or auxiliary members going to Paris for the annual convention of the Legion between June 1 and September 15, 1927.

WHEAT LOOKS GOOD IN SCOTTVILLE COMMUNITY

J. W. Tribble was in town yesterday from the Scottville vicinity. He reports that wheat has a good appearance in most parts of his section of the country. He is located near the boundaries of Morgan, Macoupin and Greene counties and has seen much of the wheat around the converging lines of all three of these counties.

Mr. Tribble reports that farming is in full swing in the Apple Creek bottoms, where floods last fall ruined the crops and prevailed during most of the winter. Hundreds of acres of corn have already been planted, and some of the corn is up and looking fine.

Leonard Dalton of the Alexander neighborhood was also a Saturday visitor. He reports that he has prospects for a good wheat crop on his farm.

JUDGE THOMSON ILL
Judge Williamson E. Thomson has been confined to his home on account of sickness since Wednesday noon. Saturday afternoon he was reported to be slightly improved. This is the first time that his own sickness has prevented him from attending to the duties of his office since coming to Jacksonville about twenty years ago.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Among the hundreds of lobbyists who have crowded the legislative halls in the Illinois capitol building during the last two weeks have been more than one hundred representing farmer interests in the state.

Word was sent out by the Illinois Agricultural Association that senators and representatives form different sections of the state needed to know how the farmer population stood regarding the gas tax bill, the income tax bill, the Kessler grain bill and the Chicago bonding bill.

Every district in the state sent from one to five representatives. The farm bureaus throughout the state were in favor of all these bills except the Chicago bonding bill.

Officials of the Illinois Agricultural Association predict that more than 40,000 people will attend the annual picnic of the association this year.

122 West College Avenue

It is being held at Mooseheart, near Aurora, Thursday, August 11. Senator McKellar of Tennessee has been secured as the speaker of the day. He is one of the leaders of Agricultural thought in the south and a proponent of the idea that southern and midwestern farmers should unite their aims into joint programs which will be beneficial to all farmers.

The state championship baseball game between the two farm bureau teams which have eliminated all other teams will be played. Horseshoe pitching contests, supervised by the State Horseshoe Pitching Association, will be carried on with about twelve regulation courts.

Representatives of a New York City engineering firm have visited several cities in the central part of the state with the view of establishing a factory for the manufacture of "alk" from corn stalks.

Danville, Peoria, Decatur and Springfield have all been considered. In addition to making synthetic silk, the company expects to make wall boarding and other products. This will provide a market for corn stalks, which have never been found useful for anything except to return vegetable matter to the soil.

Waste crank case oil from tractors and automobiles has been put into a new use by C. R. Cleveland, of the entomology department at Purdue university, Lafayette, Indiana. By mixing one pint of oil of tar with a gallon of motor crank case oil, he has discovered what he claims is a very good fly repellent. Applications of this material should be made immediately after the morning milking, care being taken to cover each cow with a fine mist.

More than 25,000 cc. of serum and virus, for use in vaccinating hogs, were placed in the hands of Vermillion county farmers during the one week. The farm bureau there has distributed more than 300,000 cc. of serum this spring.

It has been estimated that only about 75 per cent of the normal acreage of corn for Vermillion county has been planted to date, and there will probably be little additional acreage planted after this date.

The normal acreage in Vermillion county is 200,000 acres. The conservative estimate places the 1927 acreage at 150,000 acres. Owing to the fact that many acres still remain unplowed, there will probably be many idle acres this summer.

One township alone estimates an idle acre of from three to five thousand acres. Farmers are now devoting their time to putting in as many acres of soybeans as possible.

Members of the Duroc Jersey Pig club in Du Page county, have bought their pigs and are all ready to go for the 1927 season. Seven boys have purchased nine pigs.

Members of the Holstein Breeders' association will hold their annual picnic at Mooseheart, Saturday, July 10. Senator Dickinson, Algona, Iowa, has been secured as the speaker.

The half day field meeting at the Joliet Soil Experiment field of the University of Illinois, will be held Friday, July 1 at 1 o'clock, central standard time. The field is located half way between Joliet and Plainfield on the hard road.

Each year a half day field meeting is held at this field in order to show farmers the different systems of soil management which they can use as a guide for their own farms.

This field day will be in charge of Dr. F. C. Bauer, chief of the fields and of the Soil Department of the University.

Farmers generally are interested in the control of the Canada thistle. The Vermillion county farm bureau has been active in assisting farmers in the control of Canada thistle.

This farm bureau has recommended the use of sodium arsenide for the eradication of this pest. This is sprayed on the thistles and does not necessitate cutting them. Diluted at the rate of one gallon of sodium arsenide to six gallons of water and sprayed on in the same manner as potatoes are sprayed, will effectively kill them. In the course of a week or ten days after the spraying, the thistles will dry up and blow away. Additional thistles will come up in the patch which calls for weekly inspection and application.

NEW YORK, June 25. (AP)—
The stock market alternately blew hot and cold today, with final price quotations disclosing widespread irregularity. Trading which was relatively light in volume was almost entirely professional in character. Total sales were the smallest of any half holiday session since November 20, 1926. The credit situation came to the fore again when the weekly clearing house statement, issued
after the close disclosed the fourth consecutive deficit in reserve,
amounting to $6,557,830 as compared with a deficit of $13,887, 140 the week before.

New low prices for the year
were registered by Anaconda, Chile, Cerro de Pasco, Nevada and
Ray Copper, and Kennecott, Ohi, Phillips Petroleum, General Asphalt cement and preferred and Beacon Hill.

Railroad equipments continued their rise on talk of big orders on hand in prospect. Baldwin Locomotive touched a new record high for all time at 232, and General Railway Signal attained a new peak at 121 1/2.

Revival of activity and strength
in some of the low priced shares, particularly Western Pacific, Chicago & Eastern Illinois preferred,
"Soo" preferred and Western Maryland, featured the railroad group.

Outside of the establishment of another new high since 1920 in Italian lire at 5.5 1/2 cents and a 25 point drop in Japanese yen to 47.20 cents, there were no developments of importance in foreign exchange trading. Demand sterling and French franc held steady at 4.85 1/2 and 3.41 cents, respectively. Further improved demand for high grade bonds developed today also the volume of trading in the listed market was comparatively light. The list as a whole however, continued to show marked irregularity, indicating a rather indifferent attitude of traders, many of whom prefer to limit their bond commitments
until a more favorable time.

Few offerings for the week fell under $90,000,000 showing a tapering off which is welcome to dealers who have been perturbed
over the mounting total of un-absorbed new amount of buying demand among high grade railway issues and there were several fractional advances.

Local tractions featured the utility division, a fair amount of buying of Brooklyn-Manhattan transit sixes and Interborough 5s
keeping prices reasonably steady.
More than 1,000,000 in Liberty first 4s were purchased between 103 and 103 1/2. Other government securities were inactive.

ANNOUNCE PROGRAM OF I. M. L. MEETING

More than 200 official invitations to the district meeting of the Illinois Municipal League, to be held here Wednesday, June 29, are cordially invited to attend a have been mailed out during the past few days to cities and towns throughout central and western Illinois. In the letter of invitation is included the official program for the day. The letter follows: To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

The purpose of this district meeting is to offer an opportunity to all municipal officials, including both the newly elected and the re-elected of the various municipalities to become acquainted with each other and to exchange ideas and experiences. If your council committee or your city or village as a whole is at present faced with a problem which seems unsolvable, prepare to attend the Jacksonville district meeting, present the matter to the conference for discussion, and it is quite certain that you will go away from the meeting with the feeling that your problem is not nearly so hard to solve as it first seemed.

The following is the proposed program:

9:00 to 9:30—Registration.
9:30 to 12:00—Address, Round Table and open discussions.
12:00 to 1:30—Luncheon in the dining room of the American Legion Memorial Home.
1:30 to 3:30—General discussions and Round Table.
3:30—Tour of the city.

It will be necessary that the committee on arrangements know how many will be present at the luncheon which is to be served by the American Legion Auxiliary unit. Reservations for the luncheon must be in the hands of the city clerk of Jacksonville not later than Tuesday, June 28.

Remember the place and the date, Jacksonville, Memorial Home of the American Legion, Wednesday, June 29, 9:00 a. m. All good roads lead to Jacksonville.

Cordially yours,
The City of Jacksonville,
The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce,
The American Legion Post.

GRAY TOPPER REVIVED BY LORD BIRKENHEAD

LONDON. (AP)—Lord Birkenhead has revived the gray top hat which for some years had been losing popularity.

The secretary for India marched into Downing street on his way to attend a cabinet meeting the other day wearing a tall gray and within a few hours gray toppers were on display in many of the fashionable hat shops of the West End whose owners have scouts scattered about the city keeping tabs on fads and fancies of the moment.

Gray derbies and gray toppers have been seen for years at the races, this being one of the distinguishing marks of a great many horse owners but the grays are not worn extensively in the city, except on special occasions.

The gray topper, worn with a morning suit of gray or black, is the favorite hat of King George in warm weather when he attends the races, but he never wears it in town.

FRENCH TABLE D'HOTE DISCARDS "FREE WINE"

PARIS. (AP)—Paris is gradually getting drier.

Economy and not morality is reforming the wets. The low-priced table d'hôte or "prix fixe" lunch or dinner has had the customary quarter of a bottle of wine eliminated from the menu.

The organization of restaurants and wine-merchants interested in the moderate cost meal announced its members were losing too much money on wine. They had allowed 10 per cent of the total price to cover the drink but the wine has nearly doubled since last year and now the drys can drink water with a clear conscience since they won't be wasting wine for which they have paid.

The higher-priced restaurants long ago discontinued the serving of wine as a part of meals.

Trademarked Goods The Fruit of Experience

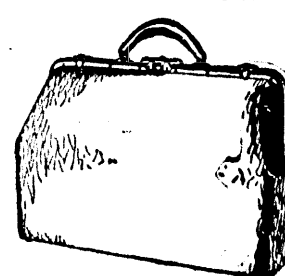

"This was the best cloth I ever had. I wish I could get some more." How often you hear such remarks, or perhaps make them yourself.

Trademarked goods are a very practical solution of the difficulty. If an article has pleased you, you can ask for it again; if not, you know what to avoid.

The J. C. Penney Company May Festival of trademarked goods, is an appropriate continuation of the April Silver Anniversary. When we hand out a branded article we are saying, "Here is the benefit of our 25 years of merchandising experience. Behind this name stands the honor of a great Company."
